

“meditation” by anne o’callaghan

a kayak with out canvas, going no where,
the sound of running water, a reminder the wonders of water.

“take any minute. a tide is rummaging in at the foot of all fields, all cliffs and shingles.”

(from shorelines by seamus heaney)

Greening the Desert

Greening The Desert

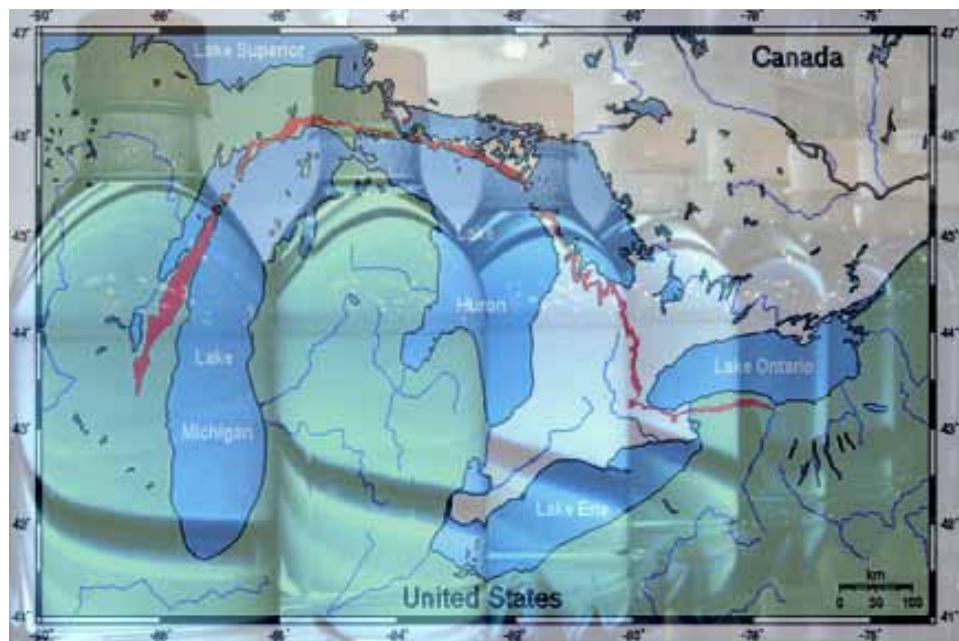

Golfing In The Desert

Swimming in the Desert

An aerial photograph of a forested landscape. The image shows a complex network of water bodies, including streams and lakes, which are highlighted in a bright yellow color. The surrounding land is a mix of green forest and brownish, cleared or less vegetated areas. The text "Haliburton Forest and Wildlife Reserve" is overlaid in the upper right quadrant in a white, serif font. In the lower left quadrant, the words "LIQUID GOLD" are written in a black, monospace-style font.

Haliburton Forest and Wildlife Reserve

LIQUID GOLD

2009 Meditation

Haliburton Forest Sculpture Symposium and site specific installations, Haliburton, Ont

13 foot wooden frame of a kayak,

The sound of water- power by a solar panel

Post cards 75

Curator Reinhard Reitzenstein

